THRIFT SOCIETIES

TWENTY-FOUR ALREADY ORGANIZED IN GLENDALE AND MANY MORE IN PROSPECT

Professor Harry Howe, who has let no grass grow under his feet since he undertook the task of organizing Thrift Societies, and who has been ably assisted in the work by Superintendent Richardson D. White, reports that in the past six weeks twenty-four societies have been organized in Glendale. The list of these follows:

Unity Masonic Lodge
Cerritos avenue P.-T. A.
Glendale Union High Faculty
Doran street P.-T. A.
Glendale Union High P.-T. A.
Pacific avenue P.-T. A.
Acacia avenue Mothers' Club
Third street Episcopal congregation
Colorado street P.-T. A.
Pro Nostra Patria (Mrs. Wilson's Latin Class)
Algebra Class of Prof. Percy K. Davis
Latin Class of Miss Flood
Uncle Sam's Nieces (girls of the 9 o'clock study period)
Industrial War Savings Society (Class in Industrial Geography)
Broadway P.-T. A.
Each of the eight rooms in the Intermediate School.

This means an enrollment of about 1000 to date or since March first. Societies will be organized in two more Parent-Teacher Associations and each one of the eight grammar schools will be organized. Then there will be organizations in the dozen or more churches and in the many societies and lodges of the city. It is easy to anticipate that by this time next month as many more thrift societies will be in existence and if all are as enthusiastic as are the members now enlisted under the thrift banner, Uncle Sam will soon be receiving quite a big income from Glendale. Without being too optimistic Mr. Howe believes the societies which have been organized in connection with the schools will soon be saving $2000 a month. About $8000 of thrift stamps have been sold in Glendale outside of the societies named through the postmaster, and the schools have sold about $2300 worth.

NEED OF CHECK DAMS

Observation of flood water in the Los Angeles river during the recent storm showed that the water was flowing through the arches of the Seventh street bridge in Los Angeles at a speed of twenty miles an hour at the maximum height of the stream, which registered 12 ft. 5 in. above the base of the channel. The observations were made by Dr. Ford Carpenter, of the U. S. weather bureau. The presence of large quantities of silt in the water indicated the extent to which the top soil is being carried into the sea and emphasizes the importance of check dams, retaining basins and other means of controlling the flood waters and conserving the moisture in the southern part of the state. "This is the first time the government has sought records of the Los Angeles river," said Dr. Carpenter. "Other points of observation have been established at higher points in the river, and by this means we will be able to trace the amount of rainfall in each part of the river's basin. Similar study is to be made of the San Gabriel river. The information we should obtain will be of great value to Southern California in its work of flood control."

$100 BILL VS. $100 BOND

The difference between a one hundred dollar bond and a one hundred dollar bill is just this: The bond draws interest and the bill does not. The actual value of each is definitely dependent upon the financial condition of our government. Nobody questions the value of the bill. Why should anyone doubt the security of these bonds. They are absolutely safe and also bear a good rate of interest. The purchase of bonds is simply loaning your money to the government in exchange for the safest known interest-bearing security.

CHANGED THEIR BASE

The Varney Advertising Company, which erected a sign on San Fernando Road within the city limits and which the Glendale trustees ordered down, has had it removed from that particular spot and again erected on the west side of the S. P. right of way. While not quite so good a location as its former stand, it is almost as prominent and quite as objectionable. It is on private property, however, and 150 back from the highway, so no action can be taken except by Los Angeles officials or by the Southern Pacific Company.

MAKING AN AMERICAN

MINNESOTA LOYALISTS CAUSED WEALTHY FARMER TO CHANGE HIS MIND

J. B. Coulson, who spoke at the Liberty Loan meeting Thursday night, told a story that bears repetition.

It was reported to have actually happened in a Minnesota community. It is well to say that it will not be necessary to employ any such tactics in Glendale.

There was one well-to-do farmer in this community who absolutely refused to buy a single bond or even listen to any of the various committees sent to see him. He said he would have nothing to do with the bonds.

A committee of several of the best business men in town and the sheriff took it upon themselves to look up his history. It was found that he had come to this country twenty years before with but eighty dollars. had taken up government land and become very successful.

With this information, the committee again called on the man. The sheriff, on account of his commanding appearance, was the chosen spokesman. They showed him that this country and our government had made it possible for him to accumulate his money. Still he refused.

The committee then pulled out four twenty-dollar gold pieces (the amount he had when he first came here) and told him to get the —— out of this country.

Right away he saw they meant business and was more than willing to talk and listen. Before they left, this committee sold that man $20,000 worth of Liberty Bonds and made an American out of him.

POST AND CORPS MEETING

At the all-day meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps, at G. A. R. Hall on Friday, covers were laid at the mid-day dinner for more than one hundred guests. Following the dinner there was a program of music and speeches which was much enjoyed, Mrs. Louise Purnell, president of the Corps, conducting the meeting.

Department Commander Haskins made an excellent speech in which he urged upon the Corps a membership drive and the need of educating the public in the idea that every loyal woman who has never given aid to the enemies of the United States is eligible to membership in this organization. Commander Blair, who is a candidate for the Department Commandership, reinforced the suggestion, and a few words were spoken by Comrade Hull, Commander of the Southern California Veteran's Association. Inspiring music was furnished by members of the Los Angeles Fife and Drum Corps, and five Boy Scouts contributed to the program, viz.: Bob Searle, Walter Sullivan, Marshal Wilson, Dan Danner, and Eugene Boring.

Mrs. Purnell, the presiding officer, had attended a Liberty Club meeting at Redondo Thursday evening and there had been the lucky winner in the raffle of an immense layer cake. This cake she presented to the Corps to be again raffled and the proceeds to be applied to fund for the repair of G. A. R. Hall. The cake was cut and Commander Hull auctioned off the separate pieces, some of which were reauctioned and sold several times. As a result of this exciting transaction, the fund was increased by $7.50.

Following the program a regular meeting of the Corps was held, at which several business matters were acted upon.

RED CROSS POSTERS

In many places about town may be seen very attractive posters, announcing the big Red Cross Benefit to be given next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Temple by the Shakespeare Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. These were made by high school students, under the direction of Miss Muller, art director, and reflect great credit upon both students and director.

Tickets for the entertainment, which will be preceded by a concert program of great by merit by Mr. and Mrs. John Marquardt, eminent violin and harp virtuosos, may be obtained at the door on the evening mentioned, if not otherwise secured. They are 25 cents each.

The Imperial Irrigation District has filed a bond of $25,000 with the war department as a guarantee against damage that might result from the construction of the weir in the Colorado river at Hanlon heading. The district is required to maintain supplies and equipment near the weir so that it may be blown out immediately when danger arises from floods.

TODAY'S WAR SUMMARY

ENEMY BREAKS THROUGH BRITISH DEFENSES NEAR ST. QUENTIN—BRITISH LINE IN NORTH HOLDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Official estimates announced here place the total, dead, wounded and missing in the world's greatest battle thus far at over 200,000 men. German losses amount to 150,000 and the allies from 50,000 to 100,000.

Berlin announces the capture of 25,000 prisoners, 400 cannon and 300 machine guns.

Reports reaching London from the British say the slaughter of Germans at Roiselten Court is appalling.

Field Marshal Haig reported that early this morning the Germans had broken through his defenses west of St. Quentin.

French forces to the right of the British line are now engaged in a mighty conflict. Every available gun is being concentrated against the solid masses of the advancing enemy. Ten thousand shells have been fired at Rheims the past two days.

For miles on miles the British front is alive with battling men and terrible artillery bombardment.

According to German newspapers, this is the last battle. The Kaiser says the enemy will bleed to death before the final assault is over.

The British are falling back in good order to previously prepared positions. Fresh hospital forces are being launched. Only in the north are the British forces holding firm in the original line.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, March 23.—Paris was raided by enemy air forces today, it was officially announced. There were several victims.

(The Paris air raid is probably the explanation of the rumor that Paris is being bombarded by 9½-inch shells from a distance of 62 miles.)

RENEWS CHARGES AGAINST I. W. W.

COUNTER PETITION FILED TO RETAIN PAPERS SEIZED IN CHICAGO I. W. W. RAID

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, March 23.—The Government renewed its charges of disloyalty, sabotage and revolutionary activity on the part of the I. W. W. in a petition filed with the federal judge here for an impounding order to retain the papers seized in a wholesale raid on the I. W. W. headquarters here September 25, 1917.

This request is a counter move by the government against the I. W. W. petition for the return of these papers, on which are based the indictment of 166 members of the organization.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

CITIZENS INVITED TO ATTEND HEARING ON STREET NAMES AND NUMBERING

Shakespeare has said: "What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." But when the name for a street is in question, the residents thereof are usually quite fastidious and have definite ideas. Streets sometimes achieve a reputation which almost overshadows that of the city of which they are a part. Who can hear the name "Broadway" without thinking of New York, or "Euclid avenue" without thinking of Cleveland? It would therefore seem fitting for Glendale people to give serious consideration to this matter now that the renaming of a number of its streets has become necessary.

A communication was presented by City Manager Watson to the Board of Trustees at a recent meeting, calling attention to this fact, that a number of street names would necessarily have to be changed in connection with the new house numbering system adopted, and suggesting that the matter be referred to the people living on the streets, meetings to be called on each street at which the residents would select the name they wished. It was thought best however that discussion be had first as to whether an entirely new system of street naming should be adopted along the lines of suggestions which have been made through the papers. One suggestion has been to have all thoroughfares running north and south designated as streets and those running east and west as avenues. numbering in some manner from a center. It has also been suggested that streets be designated by letters or by names of which the initial letters would be alphabetic in order. It was thought best to have a public hearing of that phase of the question before taking up the selection of names and a hearing was set for Tuesday evening of next week.

This is a matter that is of direct and immediate concern to every citizen. It is a thing that does not come up for adjustment more than once in the lifetime of a city, and now, when renumbering is necessary, appears to be the time to adopt some name system which will be permanent.

Mr. Watson's communication suggested that notices be sent to residents on streets which are to be changed, designating a time and place at which they can meet to choose a name; that as soon as chosen it shall be telephoned to the City Hall and from there communicated to other groups to prevent any duplication of names. It also recited the names of streets which will require change, viz.: First, Second, Third, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets; and it called attention to thoroughfares which how have two names in different sections and for which a common name should be chosen. The list included Ninth street and Oak drive, Eighth street and Maple avenue, Elrose and Seventh.

As announced above, a general discussion of the matter has been set for next Tuesday evening, when it is hoped a large number of citizens will come to assist the trustees in adopting some plan which will be permanent. Meanwhile residents on streets which will have to be changed are asked to put on their thinking caps and be ready with suggestions when the time comes.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

There will be a meeting of the local Farm Bureau next Monday evening at the Burbank High School in Burbank at 7:30 o'clock. Live Stock and Dairying will be the topic and two assistant farm advisors, Messrs. F. H. Scribner and G. E. Gordon, who are specialists along that line, will be present. Mr. Scribner is a man past middle age who has had years of experience in dairying and live stock raising. Mr. Gordon is younger but is an expert. There will also be general discussion along all lines, and some special patriotic music.

GOOD WORK

The Red Cross Auxiliary of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, met Thursday with Mrs. F. W. Jamison of North Glendale, and twenty enthusiastic workers succeeded in completing and handing in ready for shipment, to the local Red Cross Chapter, 8 sweaters, 4 pairs of socks, one helmet, one pair of wristlets, and 25 surgical masks.

Mrs. David Black of Kenneth Road will be hostess at the next meeting of the Auxiliary on the first Thursday in April.

HOME GARDENS

SOUTH PASADENA PROSECUTING VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AMONG RICH AND POOR

South Pasadena is pushing the garden campaign in a vigorous way. A mass meeting was held Tuesday evening in the Council Chamber in that city which was addressed by representatives of the Farm Bureaus of Los Angeles and Riverside counties and by Superintendent Bush of the City Schools. An effort will be made there to have every available inch of ground put under cultivation. The slogan there will be: "No home should be without a garden." Wealthy families are being urged to raise garden produce. If they do not need it themselves they can give it away. Production is the thing, and the argument that it may sometimes cost more to raise the vegetables in the family garden than they could be purchased for from a Chinaman will cut no figure. The idea is to grow the largest possible amount of food no matter what it may cost in dollars and cents. Of course the poor are being urged even more strongly than the rich to raise vegetables, and the city has undertaken to plow their gardens free of cost.

Back of this propaganda is the belief among those who are most familiar with the food situation that the government may commandeer the crops of the big ranches and that everything grown by the small private gardener will be so much to the good, especially if his surplus is conserved by drying or canning. It is also rumored that summer vegetables are likely to be high in price.

The Glendale Garden Society is therefore not the prophet in the wilderness of doubt which is preaching production and conservation. The main thing is to get busy now while gardening conditions are favorable. A good start is half the battle.

HONOR BRIDES

In honor of the recent brides of the family, the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, 245 Kenwood street, was the scene of a merry party yesterday. The luncheon at 12:30 carried out the color scheme of the blossoms used in decoration, violets and jonquils. The daughters of the home, Miss Inez and Mrs. H. M. Lennox of Van Nuys, assisted the hostess in serving. Other guests, all relatives, were Mrs. B. W. Hickman and daughter Hilda of Whittier, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lennox, Uplands, Mrs. R. Warner and daughter, Mrs. J. B. Harvey, Los Angeles, Mrs. Vandervoort and daughter, Mrs. Grace Harrison, this city, Mrs. J. C. Lennox of Van Nuys, and daughter, Mrs. Fred Cecil Forbes, one of the brides honored, and Mrs. John Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wildman of Whittier, the other bride. The afternoon passed all too soon with games and conversation, and goodbyes were said with regret as the evening came. Plans were made, however, for another reunion at Uplands soon, in honor of birthdays which come to four of the party next month.

HIGH SCHOOL DRIVES

The last of the many drives which students of Glendale Union High School have held is the book drive for camp libraries, the returns from which are stacked upon the platform of the Assembly Room to be sent by truck to distributing headquarters in Los Angeles. Fourteen hundred volumes or their equivalent were turned in. This number included some of the best fiction of the day, but more of the text books and books of reference which have been called for, works on science, mathematics, history, literature, etc. As they are all up to date, they should be of great service to inquiring student soldiers who are learning their deficiencies in the game of war and striving to fit themselves for higher rank by study. In this book drive the High School girls beat the boys by about 200, but as they are numerically greater it is hardly a test of efficiency. All did good work, however. Miss Mueller's class of thirteen brought in 174 books.

Last week there was a drive for gunny sacks in response to a call by a Los Angeles concern through the Salvage Department. That time the girls beat by only one sack and the number turned in was about 800. In the percentage of sacks returned per individual the boys were ahead. Out of the 800 sacks collected, 300 of fine quality were selected which sold for 16 cents apiece, the balance being turned over to the Salvage Department.

The next drive will be for bottles.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1918

DOING HIS BIT FOR THE SOLDIERS

Glendale lost with regret one of its native sons a few months ago when little Alfred K. Seaman, who was born in this city, went with his parents to Middletown, Ohio. His teachers and friends knew he was a fine boy, but just how good and loyal a little worker for the government had not then developed. He learned to knit before he left here and proof has just been received of fame he has won in the Buckeye State. In the issue of the Middletown News Signal of February 23d appeared the picture and article published herewith:

"Mr. Soldier Man, want a sweater? Just send your size and the kind you want to Alfred K. Seaman and he'll send one along in a short time.

"Alfred K. is probably the youngest child in Middletown who's knitting for the soldier boys. He is eight years old. He says anybody can knit sox, so to get out of the ranks of the privates Alfred has tackled the more difficult task of knitting sweaters. How well he is succeeding can be seen above, this sweater being nearly ready to cheer some soldier boy's heart. The picture was taken on the doorstep at his home on Auburn avenue. Alfred is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Seaman."

Alfred is also the grandson of Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of 151 West Tropico avenue, and of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kirkby of Verdugo Road, this city. They feel great satisfaction in having Ohio people discover what fine children California can produce.

MUST PUT NEXT BOND ISSUE OVER STRONG

It has been brought out in financial circles that had the first Liberty Loan been four times over-subscribed the war would probably be over right now.

At that time the morale of the German nation was at its lowest. Such evidence of unified support given a government supposed to be unable to take any important part in this war would have still further weakened the confidence of the German people.

Since that time, owing to the demoralization of the Russian government, their positions have been greatly strengthened. Now we have a far more difficult job.

The financial support given our army and navy by the people at home is an accurate index as to its strength. Without this support they are comparatively powerless.

These Liberty Bond issues give the people at home an opportunity to be soldiers without going to France. Winning this war is the biggest job we've ever undertaken. We must put it over. Let's all make this coming Liberty Loan such a gigantic evidence of patriotic support and unity that its echoes will ring around the world.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Members of the British Ambulance Society, especially the new ones, are reminded of the meeting to be held at the Jewel City Cafe, corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing the membership campaign. One or more of the chief officers of the Los Angeles organization will be present.

PLEASED WITH RETURNS

Mrs. J. E. Peck, of 856 South Pacific avenue, whose husband is going into the army, wishes to secure smaller quarters and has been advertising in this paper for a furnished apartment. She reports the most gratifying returns from this advertising, which has brought her a fine list of attractive houses, of which she will soon make a choice. She will visit friends in Riverside next week and will then return to Glendale to locate her permanent home.

ADDRESSING SOLDIERS' MAIL

The following instructions from the Post Office Department in regard to exercising care in addressing mail to soldiers, should be of interest to a great many people in this city who have relatives and friends in the army.

Office of Second Assistant
Postmaster General,
Washington, March 8, 1918.

Owing to the difficulties experienced in delivering mail when carelessly addressed, postmasters are requested to notify senders of mail to soldiers, sailors and marines of the American Expeditionary Forces abroad that care should be taken to write given names in full preceding or following the name of the addressee, with the necessary title, such as private, sergeant, lieutenant, etc. The need for the full given name of the addressee is apparent when it is explained that the war department has a card index file that may be consulted relative to undeliverable mail for the troops, reference to which file furnishes no information when a letter is addressed "J. F. Smith," for instance, and it can not be determined whether it is for James F. Smith, John F. Smith, or Jeremiah F. Smith. In addition to the given name of the addressee, and his title, there should also be added the full name of the unit or organization to which the addressee is assigned, it being sufficient in the way of further address to add the words "American Expeditionary Forces."

Should Not Use Lead Pencils

It is particularly enjoined that letters, post cards and packages be not addressed with lead pencil, and that every piece of mail matter bear the name and address of the sender, so that in case of non-delivery letters may be promptly returned to the senders.

The long transit taken by the mail before it reaches the delivery points abroad calls for the use of envelopes that are substantially made, as experience has shown that well-made envelopes retain clear and distinct the addresses written thereon, while in the case of envelopes of poor material the writing becomes indistinct, rendering uncertain the correct reading of the name or some part of the address.

Care in Wrapping

Reports continue to be received to indicate that packages reach United States post offices in Europe in such a dilapidated condition that repacking has frequently to be undertaken before delivery can be effected. Senders should use heavy-weight paper, canvas or cloth as wrapping for packages, and when canvas or cloth is employed the address should be written on a shipping tag, with the name and address of the sender on the reverse side.

OTTO PRAEGER,
Second Asst. P. M. Gen.

Because of the increased cost of road building the supervisors of Tulare county will not be able to complete the 223 miles of county highway planned under the bond issue. Foreseeing this emergency the supervisors decided not to surface any of the concrete roads except the main north and south highway, but with this saving it is now apparent that from 17 to 20 miles of the proposed system will remain unimproved on account of a lack of funds. This mileage comprises the Elderwood-Yettem, Orosi-Cutler and Visalia-Redbanks divisions, and the supervisors have already received a storm of protests from the districts served by these roads.

George M. Pardee, La Crescenta, has prepared plans and is taking bids for the erection of a four-room cottage on the estate of H. S. Bissell at La Crescenta. It will have concrete foundation and redwood siding.

Mrs. Frank Ayars of 1314 Chestnut street will be the luncheon guest today, Saturday, of her friend Miss Ethel Van Cise, of Denver, Colorado, who has been spending the winter at Garland Hall, Los Angeles. She is leaving for San Diego the first of the week.

Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S., will give one of its card parties next Thursday night, March 28th, at the Masonic Hall. Score cards will be 25 cents. The committee in charge is planning a very enjoyable evening and a large attendance is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wright of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Coffee of Monroe, Iowa, who are old friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Beckman of 447 South Belmont street, are spending today (Saturday) with them. They were once residents of Monroe and will have much to talk about.

Plans are being prepared for a bungalow court to be erected at San Pedro for W. H. Reynolds of 2000 Kenneth Road, Glendale. There will be five double bungalows, each to contain eight rooms. They will have concrete foundations, cement plastered exteriors.

Paul C. McAbee of Glendale started work this week on the hollow tile cannery building which he will erect at San Fernando for the San Fernando Canning Company. The building will be 100-470 feet., and will cost about $25,000. The equipment will cost about $45,000.

Several Glendale teachers are planning vacation trips for next week. The Misses Elizabeth and Frances Jackson and Miss Noble of the Third street school planned to leave today (Saturday) for Catalina, where they will spend several days. Miss White of the same school will go to Laguna Beach. Miss McPherson will visit friends at Hermosa Beach.

While walking on one of the thoroughfare crossings in Los Angeles two evenings ago, our townsman, H. L. Miller, was struck by a motorcycle running at a speed of 40 miles per hour. He was thrown a distance of 20 feet and fell to the pavement on his left side, badly spraining his left wrist. After the accident Mr. Miller drove to Long Beach and Redondo on business.

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Turck, the curator, on Monday, March 25th. The beautiful scenery of the Cevennes mountains will be enjoyed on the journey from Le Puy to La Voulte on the Rhone, where the first stop will be made; thence down the Rhone river to the famous cities of Avignon and Nimes, where there is much of interest to be seen.

The Central school building has been completed in Eagle Rock and plans are being made for the general improvement and beautifying of the grounds. The Parent-Teacher Association and Women's Twentieth Century Club are interesting themselves in the matter and plans are being prepared by Architect John C. Austin. The possibility of putting in a swimming or wading pool is being discussed.

Mrs. William Patterson of 1500 Doran street was hostess at a very prettily appointed three-course luncheon given at her home on Friday. Yellow flowers, chiefly narcissi, were used in decoration, but the St. Patrick color and emblem featured the place cards and favors. Guests were Mrs. Nevins and Mrs. Dodge of Highland Park, Mrs. Calvin McCray of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ritchie of Central avenue, Mrs. Hostetter of Kenwood street, and Mrs. Frank Ayars of 1314 Chestnut street, Glendale.

Friday evening Miss Ellene Grist entertained a merry party in which soldier boys were guests of honor, at the home of her parents, 131 South Brand boulevard. The guest list included Private Chester Nichols, Sergeant Crow, Corporal George Grist, all of Reservation Point, Dead Man's Island, San Pedro, the Misses Irene McLarsen and Dorothy Hutchinson. Corporal Albert Wheelon, who was invited, was unable to be present on account of his camp duties. Music, dancing and a real jolly time were enjoyed by all.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to those who so kindly bestowed their sympathy in the time of my deep bereavement in the loss of my husband, by their many acts of kindness and in the beautiful floral tributes. Words are inadequate to express what my heart feels.

THE HUNS

will be put out of business largely through the efforts of Uncle Sam's Boys, and one of the reasons our Boys will be so effective will be because the very consciousness they will have that their parents, sisters or dependents are protected by an income if they, themselves, should be sacrificed, will set their minds free from anxiety, and—"watch 'em"—every man will be worth half a dozen Huns because they will fight like tigers. If the Government values each of these young lives at $10,000 each or $57.50 per month for 20 years, your little $2000 or $5000 wouldn't go far with your family in these days of high living cost, would it? Better see me with a view to increasing it. Life insurance was never so popular.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL NOTES

Wednesday afternoon, at the regular Assembly, a Thrift Meeting consisting of patriotic songs and five-minute talks was held. Miss Midcalf spoke on thrift in our past wars, mentioning many hardships, sacrifices and examples of thrift of our forefathers. Mr. Lehmann talked on thrift in connection with physical training, urging the boys and girls to be as strong physically as possible in order to do their work, either of ending the war or the reconstruction. Miss Wooldridge and Miss Mallory emphasized the saving of cloth, particularly woolen cloth. Mr. Harkness connected thrift with the manual training department in such a way as to convince us that thrift in wood was keeping up our homes, and using as little wood as possible in order that more might go to the navy or places where especially needed. Miss White spoke on thrift in food, which is so much needed in these war times.

Mr. White closed the program by explaining what our Thrift Societies meant, and each class went to its own class room to organize and sign the pledge. By Thursday morning the school reported eight societies and 285 members.

Interclass athletics have aroused great enthusiasm. The eighth and seventh grades have been playing out an indoor schedule. So far the champion section for each grade has not been determined

Our school team has had several games with other schools, and there will be a few more. Quite a few of the boys will win their letters.

Our Junior Red Cross Shop has proven quite a success and is bringing money to aid our Red Cross work. Orders will be taken any afternoon from 1 to 5. We wish to thank the mothers who have been staying in the shop in the afternoons.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS

There will be a meeting of the members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, 1010 West Broadway, Tuesday evening, March 26, for the purpose of electing officers. A. T. COWAN, President.

PLAN CONFERENCE

The regular monthly Board meeting of the First District California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations convened at the Hall of Records on Thursday, March 21st.

One of the most important items was the completion of the plans for the Conference to be held Tuesday, March 26th, in the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, 845 South Figueroa St. A very interesting program has been arranged. The President, Mrs. Florence Galentine, will call the session to order promptly at 10 a. m. Ten minutes will be devoted to questions and answers by the presidents of the associations. Mrs. J. C. Urquhart, chairman of education, will have charge of the next 45 minutes and has secured as her speaker Miss Nadine Crump of the University Extension Course. The chairman of recreation, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, will have the next 45 minutes, and her speaker is Miss Stover, of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Barbara Greenwood, chairman of kindergarten work, will have the remainder of the morning session and her speaker will be Miss Ada Brooks. After luncheon the President will call the Conference to order at 1:30 and Mrs. J. D Littlejohn, chairman of publicity, will have ten minutes for her department. The next 60 minutes are allotted to the child hygiene department, Dr. Maude Wilde, chairman of the department, will divide the time with Miss Woodward. Mrs. Harvey Trowbridge, chairman of juvenile court and probation, will have the remainder of the afternoon and Judge Sidney Reeves will be the speaker. The ladies are requested to bring a box luncheon and coffee will be served for a small charge.

As Los Angeles is the central point of the District, it has been decided to hold the yearly Convention here on April 25 and 26, in the Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, but the Pasadena Federation, through their president, Mrs. E. S. Janes, offered to be hostess of that occasion. The District Board accepted this courtesy, and Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of Pasadena will be the chairman. She will have charge of the pages, ushers, doorkeepers, etc., and provide the decorations. She is also planning a reception to be given to the officers and delegates on the evening of Thursday, April 25th, and a very delightful program is now being arranged.

EVADNA LITTLEJOHN.

THURSDAY CLUB MEETS

Mrs. J. Herbert Smith of 114 Brand boulevard opened her spacious and beautiful home Thursday March 21st, to entertain the Thursday Afternoon Club, of which she is a member and officer. It was a large meeting and a most enjoyable one, though quite informal.

After a short business session, in which matters of considerable importance were presented to the Club for consideration, Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, made an appeal for books for the camp libraries, setting forth the urgent need and asking members to look over their stores of reading and bring their contributions either to the main library in Glendale or the Tropico Branch. Later Miss Ellen Churchill explained that she and Miss Moulton are giving their time and the use of their automobile to transporting the books from the libraries in Glendale and Burbank to the Los Angeles City Library to be forwarded by it to the camps. She stated that contributors who had more books to give than they could carry to the local libraries, could communicate with her by telephone and she would call for the books.

A brief musical program was then given which consisted of two much enjoyed piano numbers by Evelyn Horning and two vocal solos by Mrs. Perry Griswold, the first "Summer," a lovely composition by Chaminade, and second the better known but equally beautiful "Nightingale Song." Mrs. Griswold has a beautiful and cultivated voice. She has been suffering from a severe cold and her good nature in consenting to sing at all was much appreciated. Mrs. Edgar Fry, who had charge of the program, was her accompanist.

Announcement was made that Dr. Maude Wilde would be the speaker at the next meeting and would talk on "Better Babies."

The club then adjourned for a social half hour in which tea was served by Mrs. Smith and Miss May Cornwell, the assisting hostess.

OFFICERS' TRAINING SCHOOL

For some time Pomona College has had a course in military training for its students. The school has done good work and quite recently it has received the recognition of the government which has established there a Reserve Officers' Training Corps and detailed Major C. B. Vogdes as professor of Military Science and Tactics. Graduates will have the rank of Second Lieutenant. This will be a great advantage to male students who will have an opportunity to train for an officer's commission while taking their college course. A number of young people from Glendale have been students at Pomona College. Miss Evangeline Hunchberger is there now. In the class of 1909 was Miss Bess M. Abbott of this city and of 1914 Miss Sarah Lorbeer of this city. The status of cadets at Pomona will be similar to that of cadets at West Point. When drafted, if sufficiently far advanced they will be sent to the Officers' Training School for intensive training instead of to the ranks. The only similar government school in California is at the Presidio in San Francisco.

DRAFTED MEN MAY BE TRANSFERRED

CAMP LEWIS, Washington, March 23.—Soldiers stationed at Camp Lewis who have had medical or dental training may be transferred from their present units to the enlisted personnel of the medical corps if they wish, according to orders from the war department posted today.

To make the Wild West division a "singing army," Robert Lloyd of the Fosdick Commission and Hugo Kirchhofer of Hollywood, California—a Y. M. C. A. worker—have joined forces and are losing no opportunity to drill the men in the chanting of rousing marching songs. Even the men who can not attend gatherings are to be aided in gaining singing strength. Those are the men in quarantine and their barracks will be visited regularly by the singing instructors. Singing is a practice of immense value to any army, authorities declare, and commanders are encouraging their men to sing march songs when they are on long hikes. The result is that the men actually cover more ground, travelling with less fatigue and more enthusiasm.

A TEST OF HOME GUARDS

Last week a test was made of the efficiency of the Fremont Battalion of the Home Guards, which comprises the companies of Annandale, Garvanza, South Pasadena and Alhambra, by turning in an alarm to call members to a vacant lot near the Hall of Records in Los Angeles. It was a false alarm, but the boys didn't know it and all made record time to the scene of the rendezvous. The time may be not far distant when the public security will depend greatly on these Home Guards who are not doing much shouting but who are drilling systematically and preparing themselves for local service when needed. A company of Home Guards meets regularly in the Logan store in Casa Verdugo.

Some of the French and Belgian babies are to have "Joseph's coats" of many colors. They will be provided by boy and girl knitters of Eagle Rock, who are making little sweaters out of odds and ends of colored yarn.

STATE NEWS

BERKELEY, Cal., March 23.—The federal farm loan bank has passed the $5,000,000 mark in the amount of money loaned, according to President W. H. Joyce today. Applications for an additional total of $3,500,000 have been approved and merely await the signing of the final papers before the money will be paid out. The total represents the borrowings of 6500 applicants in the bank's district, which covers California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. Joyce declared the bank now is practically "out from under" its rush of work, having completed appraisals of practically all of the farm loan associations of the district, excepting a few located in remote sections. It is estimated that when the total of $8,500,000 has been loaned, the bank will have an annual income of $40,000.

CAMP FREMONT, Cal., March 23.—Fourteen thousand four hundred twenty officers and men now stationed at Camp Fremont have taken out a total of $99,550,000 in government insurance, it was announced at the camp today. The total number of men insured is given as 13,040, leaving but a small proportion which has not asked government protection. The average amount carried per man is $7635.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 23.—Smoked fish of all kinds replacing fish prepared by more expensive canning process, can be expected on the market at an early date, according to naturalists meeting at the University of California. Dr. W. E. Ritter, director of the Scripps Institution for Biological Research, described experiments there with smoked fish. Everything from sharks to barracuda is being tried out by the smoking process. Sharks, barracuda, rock-cod and several other seafoods heretofore strangers to the smoke house, have been treated with success.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 23.—Sixteen hundred men are to be quartered at the new government balloon camp at Arcadia near here by the end of the month, it was learned here today. The camp, costing $3,000,000 is to be one of the largest in the world. Construction now is in progress. Col. W. N. Hensley, Jr., has arrived from Fort Omaha, Nebraska, with three of his staff, to become commandant of the camp.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 23.—Charges of California tomato growers against packing corporations claiming they are using the food commission to beat down prices, will be investigated by the federal trade commission, it was believed here today. Francis J. Heney, conducting the food probe, has telegraphed the trade commission asking that a man be sent to California to investigate the tomato situation.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 23.—There'll be no straw hats nor engraved invitations at the 1918 commencement exercises at the University of California. The men students have voted to attend the annual class pilgrimage bareheaded instead of straw-hatted, as has been the custom, while the seniors decided that their guests could be called to the senior ball by means of printed cards as effectively as by engraved invitations. Both decisions were war economy measures.

RICHMOND, Cal., March 23.—With the completion of additions to the plant of the Hercules Powder Company now in progress, 5200 men will be employed at the plant, according to a statement by Assistant Superintendent Warren H. McBryde here today. The Richmond Chamber of Commerce is assisting in efforts to provide housing for the vast army of workmen.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Between 30 and 40 machinists are needed at the Mare Island navy yard, according to the announcement of the yard's board of labor. Applications can be made to the recorder, board of labor, at Mare Island or to the secretary of the Twelfth District Civil Service Board at San Francisco.

SALINAS, Cal., March 23.—Wong Gam, Chinese, was drafted but he didn't want to go. Instead he hid in Chualar canyon, where officers found him. Protesting that he wanted to die in America and not in France, he was taken to jail. Two hours later he had changed his mind and just had time enough to catch the train for his cantonment.
